Household head The person with the highest personal income is chosen as the household’s reference person except for some special cases.